

Homework Project – Your Hero

member.

For homework this week I would like you to think about and research your hero. This could be person from the past, a famous person a sports person or a family

Please can you find out all about your hero, you could use the internet, ask them yourself or use your own knowledge of them to produce a fact pack. In this fact pack you need a picture and a description of them, using the skills we have been looking at in English.

Think about:

- Adjectives to describe them, both what they look like and their character, are they a friendly person? Are they a brave person?
- How you are starting your sentences, don't just use their names, you can use pronouns too like his/her, he/she.

Finally, Can you write why they are your hero?

Please present your work in a beautiful and creative way so that we can make a display of them.

Homework Project – Your Hero

member.

For homework this week I would like you to think about and research your hero. This could be person from the past, a famous person a sports person or a family

Please can you find out all about your hero, you could use the internet, ask them yourself or use your own knowledge of them to produce a fact pack. In this fact pack you need a picture and a description of them, using the skills we have been looking at in English.

Think about:

- Adjectives to describe them, both what they look like and their character, are they a friendly person? Are they a brave person?
- How you are starting your sentences, don't just use their names, you can use pronouns too like his/her, he/she.

Finally, Can you write why they are your hero?

Please present your work in a beautiful and creative way so that we can make a display of them.