Phonics and early reading workshop for parents – Thursday 23rd November 2023

Dear Parents and Carers,

We would like to invite you to attend an information workshop in order to share our approach to teaching phonics and early reading including how parents and carers can supporting this at home. Supporting phonics and reading at home has a significant impact on the progress the children make in school.

Phonics and early reading has become a particular focus within education with the government bringing in the expectation for all schools to adopt a 'validated' phonics scheme.

We would encourage all parents to attend these workshops, it is not just for parents with children in EYFS or KS1. Children of all ages may still have gaps in their learning in relation to phonics and early reading.

We will have three times to choose from, the same presentation will be given at each with a chance to ask questions:

- Thursday 23rd November 2023 - 9:15am – in the school hall.
- Thursday 23rd November 2023 - 2:15pm – in the school hall.
- Thursday 23rd November 2023 – 7pm – online.

Please could you let us know which workshop you are able to attend by completing the form below:

Best wishes,

Mrs Heather Taylor
